Definitions:
Tabular Numerals
Tabular numerals, also called "mono spaced" numerals, have proportional character spacing and are ideal for use in annual report columns and other tabular applications. (Tabular numerals may be either old style or lining.)
Old Style Numerals
Old style numerals, also called "non-lining," have ascenders and descenders like the lowercase letters, with emphasis along the x-height, thus creating a more even appearance than lining numerals when used within lowercase text.
Lining Numerals
Lining numerals are all aligned with the height of the capital letters.
